

Sangrias

Sangria is named after the Spanish word for "bleeding" because of the typical dark-red color. Sangria originated in Spain and Portugal and is a beverage containing red wine, brandy, fresh fruit and sweeteners. Typical fruits used are apples, berries, grapes, melons and citrus juices. Sweeteners for this beverage have ranged from sugar to honey, agave or even orange juice. Other forms of sangria have removed the brandy and replaced it with seltzer or Lemon-Lime Soda.

Northwest Naturals has formulated a variety of flavor combinations for Red and White Sangrias. Combinations can contain floral notes and spices to marry with the dominant fruit flavor of your choice. Our suggested usage is 15-20% with your wine.
